2. Getting Started

2.1. What's in this Chapter?

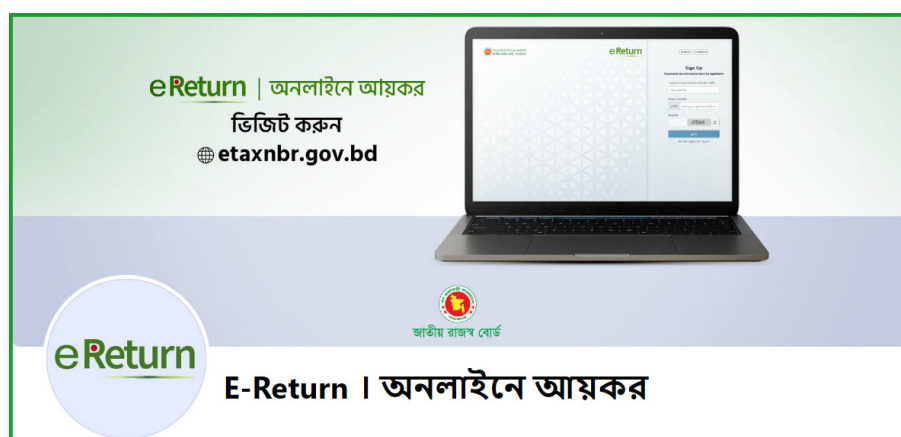

2.2. Accessing the system for the first time

Online Income Tax Return file processing is one of the cornerstones of today's digital Bangladesh. Income tax file submission is an easy way to submit returns – and this manual will show you how to process the income tax file. The system is simple, smart, and easy to use and helps to taxpayers to prepare an accurate tax return without missing any potential tax benefit. These are the details of the income tax Return file submission process.

In order to access the eFiling system, run a web browser and type the URL in the address bar, and press enter. The URL is:

www.etaxnbr.gov.bd

Once the URL has been entered, the system will display the following “Home Page” screen:

Above the screen we have six different system related to online Tax. They are:

1. eTIN – The eTIN, short for “Electronic Taxpayer Identification Number”, If you have not taken eTIN number before, click here to get eTIN first, then sign in to eFiling system with that eTIN.
2. eReturn – Register as a taxpayer, File your tax return. Pay your tax online, Update your tax payment. Submit return and get tax record and apply for time petition.

3. eTax Payment - eTax payment is a facility provided to the taxpayers to make income tax payments through the internet, using Net-banking/Debit card of the selected Bank. In other words, E-Tax payments are the direct taxes payable online by the taxpayers.
4. eReturn Ledger - A tax ledger provides a space to record information relevant to taxes, for ease of record keeping throughout the year. It can include fields for income, deductions, payments to tax agencies, and other data that may be important for tax accounting. Update your tax payment if you are a withholding agent. Withholding Tax is a tax which is deducted at source by a withholding agent. A withholding agent may be an individual, corporation, partnership, trust, association, or any other entity,
5. eTDS- Taxpayer making payments (specified under Income Tax Act) to third parties (deductees) are required to deduct tax at source (Tax Deducted at Source -TDS) from these payments. Post deduction, the payments must be deposited at any of the designated banks. If TDS is deposited by online, it is called eTDS. Manage your source tax (this option is for withholding agents).
6. eTax Service- Services available to a taxpayer through online will be included in this section. Interact online with tax support team. The National Board of Revenue (NBR) organized a nationwide special support service to help taxpayers submit their income tax returns through online under eTax Service.

This document is written only for the 'eReturn' system, which will guide a taxpayer for online Return submissions.

4.8.2. Description of Above Screen:

Basic Salary: Basic Salary is fully taxable income. Whatever the basic salary is, all of it will be added to your taxable income.

House Rent Allowance: In case of cash house rent allowance, 50% of basic salary or Tk. 25,000, whichever is lower is tax free. Example: If the basic salary of Mr. Shakil Mahmud is 80,000 taka per month, 50% is 40,000-taka, $12 \times 40,000 = 4,80,000$ taka per year. Again $12 \times 25,000 = 3,00,000$ Tk., now $4,80,000 - 3,00,000 = 1,80,000$ Tk. This amount will be added to his total taxable income

Medical Allowance: 10% of basic salary or Tk 1,20,000 per year (Tk 10 lakhs in case of disabled persons), whichever is less, is exempt from tax. For example: Mr. Shakil Mahmud is getting Tk.5,000 per month as medical allowance, but 10% of his monthly basic salary is Tk.8,000. As the amount of exemption is higher (8,000 Tk.) here, he is getting full exemption i.e., Tk 5,000, the medical allowance will not be added to the taxable income.

Conveyance Allowance: Tax free up to Tk 30,000 per year. For example: Mr. Shakil Mahmud is earning 6000 Tk. per month, then he is getting 72000 Tk. per year, since the Income Tax Act exempts up to 30,000 Tk., then after deducting 30,000 Tk. from 72,000 Tk., the remaining 42,000 Tk. will be added to the taxable income.

Festival Bonus: Festival allowance is fully taxable income. Whatever the festival bonus is, all of it will be added to your taxable income.

The tax payable figure is obtained by subtracting the tax rebate figure from the Tax leviable on total Taxable income. If the taxable income of a taxpayer is Tk 5,16,140, then the tax on this income will be Tk 16,614, after deducting the rebate from this figure (15,664-Rebate), the amount that will come will be his payable tax for that year.

The Actual Investments are:

1. Life insurance – 34,000
2. DPS - 72,000
3. Sanchayapatra – 1,00,000

Total investments (34,000 + 72,000 + 1,00,000) = 2,06,000

Therefore, total allowable investment for Rebate =

$$(30,000 + 60,000 + 1,00,000) = \mathbf{1,90,000} \text{ -----(A)}$$

Rebate Calculation:

$$\mathbf{20\% \text{ of income from salary } (5,06,640) = 1,01,328 \text{ -----(B)}}$$

From (A) and (B) which is small? B is small, Tax Rebate will be calculated by (B) that is 1,01,328.

So Rebate = 15 % of 1,01,328 = 15,199 Taka

Tax Calculation:

Taxable Income	Tax Rate	Tax Liability (Taka)
Up to First 3,00,000 Taka (a)	0 %	0
Next 1,00,000 Taka (b)	5 %	5,000
Next 1,16,149 Taka (c)	10 %	11,614
Total Tax Liability (1)	(a + b + c)	16,614
Minus: Tax Rebate (2)		15,199
Tax Payable (difference between (1) and (2))		14,15
Even if the tax comes below 5,000 takas, the minimum tax should be paid 5,000 Taka according to the location of taxpayer.		5,000

2. Liabilities (outside business): A liability is something a person owes, usually a sum of money. Liabilities are settled over time through the transfer of economic benefits including money, goods, or services. Loan from bank or any other sum of money that you owe someone else is liability. If you have promised to pay someone a sum of money in the future and haven't paid them yet that's a liability.

If the taxpayer has filed the return in the previous year, the figure that was in the 'Net Wealth' column will be placed here. If this is his first return to be submitted, then zero will sit in this cell.

Taxpayer income on this return made 7,17,500 taka and his expenses and assets are 7,17,500 Taka, The difference between these two is zero, if it is zero then your return is correct, otherwise the return should be checked properly where the mistake is made.

Source Tax:

Tax Deduction at Source (TDS), Tax paid at source by the taxpayer in the income year has to be shown in the income tax Return. For example, tax deducted at source from a taxpayer's Salary, Bank Interest income, Annual Rental income from house-property, receipt of professional fees etc. must be shown in the return.

Advance Income Tax (AIT):

If the taxpayer has paid Advance Tax, then the amount of tax paid should be shown in the income tax return. Suppose a normal individual taxpayer has paid Tk. 25,000 as advance tax during fitness renewal of his car, he has to show this in his tax return, otherwise he cannot claim credit of advance tax paid.

Payment with Return:

The amount of tax payable by a taxpayer in a year, if he has paid any tax before filing the return, then that amount should be deducted from the total tax and the remaining amount should be deposited with the return by automated challan (A Challan) or e-Payment system if the amount up to 5 laks taka.
